KLUG's expertise

Research and development for preservation solutions

KLUG-CONSERVATION, with over 140 years of experience, has the know-how to produce premium-quality products made from ageing-resistant paper and board, ensuring maximum permanence and durability for long-term preservation of assets in archives, museums and libraries. Close collaboration with our customers and intense cooperation with the paper industry, development and research institutes, universities and academies allows us to continually improve our existing products as well as develop new ones. This is essential for maintaining a consistently high quality standard, as well as keeping up-to-date with latest developments in the field. We would like to share this knowledge with you in the form of our "Technical Knowledge folders". Should you have any further questions, please refer to our website (www.klug-conservation.com), our printed publications or contact us personally.

Preserving values

For us, preservation of cultural artefacts starts with the consideration and evaluation of all the available options for effective conservation and preservation. The red curved band symbolises our goal to preserve and protect the current state of an object. Hence, we are committed to preserving the original condition of an object and will advise against any kind of intervention that may alter the material or immaterial value of a cultural artefact.

The basics

Preservation materials made from paper

From the composition of our paper and board qualities up to the vast assortment of archival storage products made from them like boxes, folders and envelopes, all KLUG products meet the requirements for permanence.

Quality Guarantee

The KLUG quality mark “Quality for the future” and the compliance with technological requirements of the EN ISO 9706 and ISO 16245 standards are the basis of our legally binding quality guarantee. Products designed for photographic archival storage are additionally PAT-tested.
